“ Jeremy, it is still a devastating shock to me that you are gone. You are always such a good friend to me. thank you so much for looking out for me and helping me get on my feet when I came back to Colorado Springs. It was just like you to give support and assurance when I was just starting out again. Rest in peace my friend.

“ Jeremy, I still cannot believe you are gone. This is such a devastating loss for so many, your absence is definitely felt. Thank you for always looking out for me and mom, you were always checking on someone. Despite everything you endured you stayed loving, positive and grateful. You lived a beautiful life and I admired that. I will forever miss your smile, shit talking, stuffing our faces with Tacos, vacation stories, you bragging about your Hita, picture sharing and endless laughs. Stay close to us. I will love and miss you always. Fly high!

“ Jeremy, will never be forgotten, he will always live in my heart. The memories that will carry on with me are cherished, which we have lots of. Jeremy was a good man, I remember in the snowy days, he would go out looking for stranded people in ditches, thrown off the roads, lol just so he can be that awesome person to pay it forward. He would pull out his chain, hitch it up, and pull them out of anywhere, it didn't matter how long it would take him. and at the end of it all, that person would offer him some kind of payment, and he just would shake their hand and just say," here to help brother" GOD BLESS That's just one of the great memories I have to share, I will always love you Jeremy ,
