“ Jordan and Dru are amazing people. Always have been and always will be. Since I very first met them I knew there was something very special about these two. Years and years later nothing changed. They were just as amazing as they we're when we first met. A few years into our friendship they began helping me and my wife out with our troubles. Margie and I were homeless and Jordan and Dru did everything in there power to make it as comfortable as possible for us. Feeding us. Letting us shower in their home. Giving us money and clothes. There hearts had an infinite amount of love and genuine care and concern for our situation. I will always remember and cherish those times.
