“ There are so many to share but here is one that shows his heart. My husband and I had just moved into our first place as a couple. He had just retired and was moving back to the valley. He asked us to come and pick up what we wanted. We didnt have a truck, but he brought us the water bed frame and the entertainment center he had in the basement. These were the first pieces of furniture we owned. Every time we would come to Denver for any reason he would always opened up his home. Another cool thing to share my first home is in the same neighborhood and my layout is a mirror image of his house.
