“ My fishing and camping trips will never be the same without you my brother, you always knew the best fishing spots. I will never forget the fun we had swimming in the pond, or tubing down the river all the way home after branding the calves, and walking through the ditches every season of the year. I'm going to miss you making fun of me like when you fixed my mailbox when I decided to "accidentally" take it out with my truck, it was an accident I swear. LOL. You will be deeply missed, I love you always and forever! Amanda

“ After my brothers moved away, Nick was a frequent visitor to my dad's house. He'd play cards and dominoes with him and he even tiled his bathroom for him. He made my dad a glass etching that he asked we bury with my dad when my dad passed away. He was a good friend to my family and a good soul. God speed to you as you fly home, Nick. May you rest in God's peace and may the Lord welcome you home! Give my dad the biggest hug, please.
